

Tracking young people – putting Local Authorities in control

Sentinel's online data integration solution automatically builds a comprehensive and accurate picture of what young people do after leaving school, supporting RPA duties and quickly identifying those who are NEET or at risk of becoming NEET.

Seamlessly integrating dozens of data streams, our sophisticated Young People Tracker provides a holistic view displaying all known events for each individual. These include:

- ▶ Education and training – showing applications, enrolments, non-starters, drop-outs, transfers, leavers and those on a gap year
- ▶ Employment - including those going into the armed forces and taking temporary positions
- ▶ Health, legal and care-related - covering long and short term care issues, SEND needs, pregnancies or youth offending

Detailed tracking and ongoing case management is facilitated by wide-ranging functionality:

- Online forms for direct input by third parties such as school careers officers
- The ability to upload supporting documents and create contact records
- Email and letter templates to support a range of communication channels
- Automatic alerts when an individual's status becomes unknown or lapsed
- Safeguards to prevent inaccurate status updates
- User-friendly XML file creation to manage content for DfE NCCIS submissions

Herefordshire Council is the latest local authority to go live with our Young People Tracker and benefit from an immediate focus on its target cohort. Other advantages include reduced numbers of 'unknowns'; coordinated follow-up using the latest known contact details and fulfilling all NCCIS submissions and reporting obligations to the DfE quickly and easily.
